

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT.

VOL. XXXI.

CLOVERPORT, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, JULY 10, 1907.

8 Pages

NO. 52

NEW WHEAT IS PUT ON MARKET

88 Cents Highest Paid in County For New Crop.

Several crops of new wheat have already been put on the market in this county, though the biggest portion of the grain has not yet been threshed.

The prices reported paid for the different crops vary considerably, in some instances as much as five cents. Messrs. English and Alexander, of Roberts Bottom, sold their crops to the Catlick Milling Co., at Grandview, at 88 cents, the Irvington Milling Co., has bought 3,600 bushels at 87 cents, and a quantity has been bought by Jeff Hook, of the Hardinsburg Milling Co., at 84 cents.

Deickman Bros., at Stephensport, have purchased 700 bushels at 83 cents.

CHURCH OF UNITED BRETHREN

At Tar Springs Taken Over By Methodists.

The church of the United Brethren which has just been built at the Tar Springs by the little band of followers of that faith, has been taken over by the Methodist church. The followers of the United Brethren faith living at Tar Springs, though small in numbers, are large in works, and they have labored diligently to establish their church on a firm foundation. However, the task was too much for them, and it was found advisable to turn it into a Methodist church. Rev. B. M. Currie, of this city, and Mr. W. T. Halliday, proprietor of the Tar Springs, have assumed the indebtedness against the church, and religious services will be conducted in the building every Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Currie.

GUSTON.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Marshall and little son, Alton, went to Louisville Sunday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beavers, of Louisville are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Osborne.

Mrs. Laura Legrand, of Rosetta, was the guest of Mrs. Fannie Durbin a few days last week.

The ice cream supper that was given by the ladies of Guston Saturday night for the benefit of the streets was largely attended.

There will be a picnic given July 20 by the Guston lodge. A good band will furnish the music.

Mr. Rollins and children went to Cannelton, Ind., the Fourth to visit relatives.

Quite a number from here attended the picnic at Hardinsburg.

Mr. Patch Shacklett, of Ekron, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. E. C. Richardson.

STEPHENSPOET.

STEPHENSPOET, KY.

Rev. Lewis filled his appointment here Sunday. We are delighted to hear him again and to know that his health is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Connor, of Canton, Ohio, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Connor.

Mrs. Meadows and children, of Hardinsburg, were guests of her parents Rev. and Mrs. Roberts last week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Connor left Sunday for Owensboro, where they will make their home.

Mrs. G. W. Hudson, of Havesville, spent the day with Mrs. Pike Conn Friday.

Lewis Stewart and Miss Lummie Basham were married the Fourth at the home of her sisters, Mrs. Chas. Thins, Rev. Roberts performed the marriage ceremony.

Mrs. Hensley, of Hardinsburg, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. S. Skillman.

W. J. Schoep was in Louisville the first of the week.

Mrs. Ed. Atkinson and babies are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, of Sebree, Ky.

Miss Esther Payne spent a few days of last week in the country with Miss Mary Basham.

The remains of Mrs. Ambrey Hickson were buried at Union Star Friday. John Gardner left Sunday for Garfield.

John McCoy spent a few days in Tell City last week the guest of Mrs. A. S. Stites.

Miss Brownie Adair, of Havesville, came up Friday to visit her father, John Adair.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hank's grand children, of Cloverport, visited them last week.

Miss Mary Lewis McMillen visited relatives here last week.

HARDINSBURG

HAPPENINGS.

News Notes of Interest From The County Seat.

HARDINSBURG, KY.

Thurman Smith and Tom Cox, of Louisville, came down to spend the Fourth and visit relatives.

E. C. Hatley left Friday for New York to visit relatives. From there he will go to Biebee, Arizona, where he will make his permanent home. Mr. Hatley has been a citizen of this place for the past four or five months and has established himself in the good opinion of all who knew him.

Godfrey Ball returned to Cincinnati Sunday after a visit of several days to his mother, Mrs. Judith Ball.

Mrs. Anita Beard, of Louisville, returned home Friday after a two weeks visit to her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Beard.

Dr. E. F. Day was in Louisville a few days last week.

Misses Ruth Miller and — Drury, of Irvington, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hook.

Mrs. M. H. Beard is visiting Miss Jennie Green, at the Falls of Rough.

Misses Lucy and Minnie Moredock have returned to Louisville after a visit of two weeks to Mr. and Mrs. George Evans.

Miss Fannie Lee Lacy, of Hopkinsville, is the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. E. H. English.

Miss Lina K. Stith has returned home from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Statin, at Bowling Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Eckridge and daughter, of Owensboro, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Eckridge.

Miss Reba Lewis, of Cloverport, is visiting Miss Isabelle Hendrick.

Misses Hannah and Judith Beard have returned home from a trip to the Mammoth Cave and a visit to their brother, Dr. Harold Beard, at Livermore.

Miss Linnie Haswell has returned home from Camtherville, Mo., to spend the summer.

T. J. Moore spent Sunday at Glendene, the guest of friends.

Dan Burks, of Addison, was in town Monday.

Mrs. Nathaniel Hook, of Louisville, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gus D. Shellman.

The song service at the M. E. church South Sunday evening was largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cummings, of Falls of Rough, were visitors at the Evans Hotel last week.

Dr. Frank Hook, of Cloverport, is here on a professional visit.

Mrs. Judith DeJarnette entertained Friday evening in honor of Miss Fanny Lee Lacy, of Hopkinsville.

The camp meeting at Kingswood commenced Monday.

The Red Men's picnic given here the Fourth was a success in every way.

Everything went off smoothly and there was not a disturbance on the ground. The management conducted every thing well. Only 3,300 people attended the picnic.

Col. Lina Davis has been operated upon for strabismic hernia by Dr. John E. Kincheole. He is recovering.

FAIR NOTES.

The large stable at the Fair Grounds will be completed this week. It contains 72 stalls and is the finest stable in the county.

The Grand Stand is about half completed.

Work upon the race track began today. The track is one-half mile long.

FEAST FIT FOR THE GODS AND GUESTS GALORE TO PAY IT HOMAGE

466 People of The Easton Community Gather Together at Birthday Anniversary on Last Sunday, a Sumptuous Repast Was Spread and Withal a Gala Day Was Had.

The multitude that partook of dinner at the home of Mr. John H. Sanders, of the Easton neighborhood, on last Sunday did not rival numerically the multitude at the Sea of Galilee, of biblical history, but the seven loaves and fishes that satisfied the hunger of that vast assemblage would have failed of their purpose at Sunday's gathering unless a like miracle were performed.

When it is stated that guests dropping in upon a neighbor to celebrate his birthday anniversary had eaten a 280-pound hog and several couple of promising young roosters, gizzards and all, besides diminishing the pantries therabouts, Breckenridge county would certainly gain the reputation of having past masters in the art of gastronomy. But when the number of people whose whetted appetites were appeased at the home of Mr. Sanders is given, no surprise will be occasioned at the quantity of food consumed.

All told, there were 466 people that gathered around the festive board at the home of Mr. Sanders on last Sunday. It was the occasion of the forty-fifth anniversary of his birth. The big, the little, the old and the young, including nearly everybody and his neighbor of the community, were there to tender congratulations to their host, to pass the good word with one another and to pay homage to the sumptuous feast. It was probably the largest assemblage of people that ever gathered together in this section on a similar occasion.

The repast began at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and it was not until 4 in the afternoon that the last of the feasters left the table. And it was hardly necessary that the example of the disciples in gathering up the loaves and fishes at the Sea of Galilee be followed. Drum sticks minus the meat and only skeletons where once had been juicy hog loins and pantry dishes without the pastries were about all that marked the scene of six hours of gastronomic activity.

The day was one that the people of the Easton community will store away in pleasant memories and more especially will their thoughts revert to it as such an anniversary of Mr. Sanders' birthday draws near.

DEATH DUE TO SENILITY.

Chas. E. Couty Succumbs At Age Of Eighty-Three Years.

Mr. Charles E. Couty, one of the oldest citizens of the county, died Saturday at the home of his son, John Couty, of the Skillman neighborhood, at the age of eighty-three years. Death was due to infirmities incident to old age.

Mr. Couty was engaged many years in stemming and putting up tobacco in various forms. He gained considerable notoriety among tobaccoists of the State several years ago by discovering a process by which the "funk" is removed from tobacco.

Mr. Couty was a respected and substantial citizen.

TRIPLETS

Born to Mrs. Thomas Mason, Formerly of This County.

Mattingly, Ky., July 9.—(Special).—News has been received here of the birth of triplets to the wife of Mr. Thomas Mason, of Evansville, Ind., formerly of this county, on June 28.

Two of the infants are living and enjoying perfect health. They weigh six and one-half pounds each.

Mr. Mason is the son of James Mason, of Pigeah, and his wife was formerly Miss Lula Newman, of the same neighborhood.

Interesting Heirloom.

Mrs. John D. Babbage, of this city, possesses an interesting heirloom handed down to her from her father, the late Franklin Ditto, of Meade county. It is a colonial bed, and the interest that attaches to it arises from its antiqueness and the rarity of such pieces of furniture nowadays. The bed has been in the Ditto family nearly sixty years and is remarkably preserved. It is of solid walnut and makes a unique addition to the bedroom furniture. Aside from its intrinsic value, which is considerable, Mrs. Babbage greatly prizes it from the standpoint of an heirloom, as is shown from the manner in which she has had it retouched by Mr. C. G. Schwarz, the upholsterer.

WHEAT BELT SUFFERS FROM LACK OF HARVEST HANDS.

Reports from over the country show that the only drawback to the wheat crop is the lack of hands in Kansas to harvest the grain. A union of farmhands was formed, but was broken up quickly when the farmers refused to pay the additional wage demanded.

and were the guests of J. T. Stith to dinner.

Mrs. Abel Gillingwaters is still confined to her bed.

Mrs. T. J. Triplett was called to the bedside of her mother, who is very ill.

Tom Cain and wife, of Michigan, are with their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jolly, for an indefinite visit.

Miss Bevie Cain, of Glasgow, and Miss Florence, of Louisville, are visiting their brother, Roy.

Our pastor succeeded in organizing an Epworth League at the church Sunday night and R. J. Cain was elected President.

Moorman Hardaway, of Washburn, N. D., is at home for an indefinite visit to his parents.

Hurlbut Cain and Mrs. Leah Pate have returned from Bowling Green, where they have been attending school.

Miss Ina McCoy will take charge of her school at Bethel Monday.

IRVINGTON INTELLIGENCE.

Complete Chronicle of Doings of Newly Nature.

IRVINGTON, KY.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lewis and children have returned Bradfordville after being the guest of his sister, Mrs. Kate Bennett, at Basin Springs.

Mrs. L. E. Henderson and son, Harold, after spending a few days at Indianapolis, Indiana, visiting her sister, Mrs. S. R. Caid, returned home last Sunday.

Miss Nellie Dempster, of Glendene, is visiting Dr. and Mrs. P. E. Dempster for several days.

Miss Iva Mudd, of Louisville, spent last Wednesday and Thursday at Oakland, the guest of her parents.

Miss Julia Greenwood has returned from Brandenburg where she went to visit her cousin, Miss Woelard.

Mrs. Scott Brown and sister, Miss Mary Brown, have returned from a ten days visit to relatives and friends at Hardinsburg.

Miss Annie Tydings left for Louisville Friday, after being the guest of Miss Ellen Bradford for several days.

Rev. E. W. Graves filled his regular appointment at the Presbyterian church last Sunday, preaching two excellent sermons, which were very instructive and helpful.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Kemper and sister, Miss Ola May Clarkson, and Dr. A. M. Hardaway spent two days in Louisville last week.

Mrs. N. B. Netherton and daughter, Anna Louise, have returned from Leitchfield where they were visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. McChes were host and hostess to a dinner last Sunday, given for Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ditto, of Brandenburg, and Mrs. Crete Hensley of Hardinsburg.

Miss Marie Scholtz, accompanied by her mother, spent Monday here in the interest of the private school. While here they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Piggot.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Weaver and children, of Louisville, will arrive this week for a short visit to Mrs. Weaver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kate Washington.

Mrs. Bell Bauear arrived last Monday from St. Louis for an indefinite visit to her old friends and relatives.

Miss Alma St. Claire, of Hardinsburg, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Mahle Bandy for some time.

Miss Ola May Clarkson returned to Big Springs Sunday after a ten days visit to her sister, Mrs. Harry H. Kemper.

Mrs. T. R. Blythe and children left last Friday for Cloverport for a visit to relatives.

Misses Ruth Miller and Willa Drury are visitors to Mr. and Mrs. Gus Shelman for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Speaks spent a few days of last week in Louisville visiting.

Mr. Luther Stuter of Indianapolis, Indiana, and brother, Jessie Stuter, of Owensboro, Ky., were the guests of Mr. Leonard Giles, at the Lyons House, last week for a few days.

Mrs. G. N. Lyddan and baby left Monday for a month's visit to Elizabethtown and Bowling Green.

Mrs. G. B. Gardner returned Monday from Chenault, after spending ten days the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cunningham.

Mr. G. E. Leffer, of Owensboro, spent several days last week visiting her cousin, Mrs. James Bobin.

Regular services will be held at the Baptist church in Irvington Sunday morning and evening. The Rev. Curry Weaver, of Louisville, will conduct the services.

SUGGESTS TOBACCO WAREHOUSE

For Cloverport, Owned and Controlled By Farmers.

That a tobacco warehouse built in Cloverport by the farmers and a local market for the weed established, would be the biggest boom that could come to the tobacco growers of this section, is the opinion expressed by Mr. John H. Phelon, the well-known tobaccoist of this city.

Mr. Phelon, in speaking of the matter to The News, outlined the plan as suggested by him as follows: That the farmers build a warehouse of sufficient dimensions to house comfortably any quantity of tobacco, employ on a salary an expert rebandler to sort the various types and otherwise get it into the proper and most advantageous condition for selling. A local market could easily be established, as buyers would come here when informed of an opportunity to make a purchase. Mr. Phelon is confident that a big local market could be established in Cloverport, resulting in higher prices to the farmers and better general satisfaction.

In substantiation of his last theory Mr. Phelon says that he has never enters his tobacco upon the breaks in Louisville but that he sells direct to buyers who come to his warehouse. Only last week he disposed of eighty-two hogsheads of the weed to a representative of an English firm at prices ahead of what is realized on the breaks.

Married at Cannelton.

Cannelton, Ind., July 9.—(Special).—A very beautiful private wedding was solemnized to-day at high noon at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. G. B. Walls. The bride, Miss Hettie M. Anspach, is the youngest daughter of Mr. Adam Anspach, a prominent merchant of Cannelton, Ind. The groom, Mr. Eugene Gilliland, is Director of Manual Training in the public schools of Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Linnie Brashear, of Hardin Grove, Ind., and a cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid. Mr. J. W. Anspach, brother of the bride, was groomsmen.

The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for Washington City, Atlantic City and Jamestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland will be at home to their friends, at 721 North Fourth street, Nashville, Tenn., from August 10.

Irvington Epworth League Meeting.

(Too late for last week.)

The Epworth League meeting conducted by Mrs. Piggett, on Sunday evening occupied an hour and a half and was both interesting and profitable. The program had been carefully planned and the young people carried it out most creditably. The mission study for the month was along rather a new line. It dealt with the fruits of missionary labors and was most encouraging to those who know the fields and love the cause and most enlightening to those who are indifferent and uninformed.

Charts were used showing the progress of the world's evangelization since 1800 and the proportion of money spent by each denomination toward world evangelization. The Moravians head the list with every sixty-six members supporting one missionary. The Southern Methodists are second to last, it taking seven thousand and a half of this denomination to support one missionary while in our sister church, the Southern Baptists, it takes nineteen thousand and a half to support one missionary.

When the church of 110 practices tithe all this will be changed. Miss Clara Jolly gave a full and clear report of the delightful Cloverport Conference.

Edwin Jolly will lead the devotional meeting at the Sabbath, the subject is Christian Citizenship.

Visitors are cordially invited to these meetings. The hour is seven o'clock.

Special Week-end Excursion Fares.

Every Saturday trains 113, 114, 115 and 116, and all trains Sundays. Round trip tickets will be sold at reduced rates to local points, good to return Sunday.

THE HOUSE.

By CHARLES KLEIN.

A Story of American Life Novelized From the Play by ARTHUR HORNBLOW.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY C. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY.

He thought of John Burkett Ryder. Ah, he remembered now! Ryder was the man who had recommended the investment in Alaska stock. Of course. Why did he not think of it before? He recollected that at the time he had been puzzled at receiving so much stock, and he had mentioned it to Ryder, adding that the secretary had told him it was customary. Oh, why had he not kept the secretary's letter? But Ryder would certainly remember it. He probably still had his two letters in which he spoke of making the investment. If those letters could be produced at the coroner's inquest, they would clear him at once, so, losing no time and filled with renewed hope, he wrote to the Colossus a strong, manly letter, which would have melted an iceberg, urging a Ryder to come forward now at this critical time and clear him of this abominable charge, or in any case to kindly return the two letters he must have in his possession, as they would go far to help him at the trial. Three days passed and no reply from Ryder. On the fourth came a postcard, but the note from Mr. Ryder's private secretary. Mr. Ryder had received Judge Rosemore's letter and in reply begged to state that he had no objection to some conversation with the judge in regard to investments, but he did not think he had advised the purchase of any particular stock, and that something he never did on principle, even with his most intimate friends. He had no wish to be held accountable in case of loss, etc. As to the letter which Judge Rosemore mentioned as having written to Mr. Ryder in regard to having received more stock than he had bought, of that Mr. Ryder had no recollection whatever. Judge Rosemore was probably mistaken as to the identity of his correspondent. He regretted he could not be of more service to Judge Rosemore and remained his very obedient servant.

It was very evident that no help was to be looked for in that quarter. There was even developed hostility in Ryder's reply. Could it be true that the character was really behind those attacks upon his character? It was possible that one man, merely to make more money, would deliberately set upon another who had been grasping in friendship? He had been unwilling to believe in his friend Edgewise Stott, but pointed to the fact that all of his misfortunes, both his financial and his personal, had been caused by his friendship with the falsehoods, his plain, plaited written all over its face, was proof enough. He was now no doubt possessed. John Burkett Ryder was his enemy, and what an enemy! Many a man had committed suicide when he had incurred the enmity of the Colossus. John Burkett Ryder was his enemy, and what an enemy! Many a man had committed suicide when he had incurred the enmity of the Colossus. John Burkett Ryder was his enemy, and what an enemy! Many a man had committed suicide when he had incurred the enmity of the Colossus.

They were fleeing from the law, having become acquainted nearly thirty years ago at the law school, at the time when both were young men about to enter on a public career. That was Rosemore's junior, had begun as a lawyer in New York and soon acquired a reputation in criminal practice. He afterward became a judge, and later, when a vacancy occurred in the city magistrature, he was successful in securing the appointment. In the town of New York, where he was a friend of Rosemore, and the two men once more became closely intimate. The trouble four hours, however, soon passed in a manly and friendly conversation, and it was not long before he retired to take up once more his criminal practice. He was still a young man, not yet in the full of his life, and his heart was full of the future. He was a bright, cheerful, and full of life, and he had a record as clean as his close-shaven face. He was a hard worker, a brilliant speaker, and one of the cleverest cross-examiners at the bar. This was the man to whom Judge Rosemore naturally turned for legal assistance.

Stott was out west when he first heard of the proceedings against his old friend, and his indignity put upon the only really honest man in public life whom he knew, so incensed him that he was already hurrying back to his aid when the summons reached him. Momentarily a fresh and more serious calamity had overwhelmed Judge Rosemore. Everything seemed to combine to break the spirit of the man who had dared defy the power of organized capital. Hardly had the news of the congressional inquiry been made public, than the judge was startled by an extraordinary slump in Wall street. There was nothing in the news of the day to justify a decline, but prices fell, and the bears had all their own way, and the big fortunes tumbled down like a house of cards. The next day the same tactics were pursued. From the opening, on selling orders coming from no one knew where, prices fell, and a stampede followed, and before long it became a panic.

Parademonium reigned on the floor of the Stock Exchange. White and blue-shedded brokers scolded and struggled like men possessed to execute the orders of their clients. Big financial houses which stood to lose millions on a falling market rallied and by rush orders to buy alone, tried to turn the tide, but all to no purpose. One after another went by the board, unable to weather the tempest, until just before closing time the stock market announced the failure of the Great Northwestern Mining company. The drive in the market had been principally directed against its securities, and after vainly endeavoring to check the bear raid it had been compelled to declare itself bankrupt. It was heavily involved, assets all stock almost worthless. It was probable that the creditors would not see 10 cents on the dollar. Thousands were ruined, and Judge Rosemore among them. All the savings of a lifetime—nearly $30,000—were gone. He was practically penniless at a time when he needed money most. He still owned his house in Madison avenue, but that would have to go to settle with his creditors. By the time everything was paid there would remain enough for a modest competence, but that would have to go to settle with his creditors. By the time everything was paid there would remain enough for a modest competence, but that would have to go to settle with his creditors.

Stott thought this was the best thing they could do, and he volunteered to relieve his friend by taking on his own hands all the arrangements of the sale of the house and furniture, which he for the judge accepted only too gladly. Meantime Mrs. Rosemore went to Long Island to see what could be had of the house and furniture, which he for the judge accepted only too gladly. Meantime Mrs. Rosemore went to Long Island to see what could be had of the house and furniture, which he for the judge accepted only too gladly. Meantime Mrs. Rosemore went to Long Island to see what could be had of the house and furniture, which he for the judge accepted only too gladly.

The evening following the day of their arrival they were sitting on the porch enjoying the cool evening air after dinner. The judge, who had been a slave to the weed, but he enjoyed a quiet pipe after meals, claiming that it quieted his nerves and enabled him to think more clearly. Besides, it was necessary to keep at bay the ubiquitous Long Island mosquito. Mrs. Rosemore had remained for a moment in the city, but now, as she and Edgewise, their new and only maid of all work, not to wreck too much of the crockery when she removed the dinner table, she was sitting on the porch, now a daughter was to be foisted on her. No wonder hardworking girls were getting sick and tired of housework.

That evening Stott and the judge came home earlier than usual, and from their dejected appearance Mrs. Rosemore divined bad news. The judge was painfully silent through the meal, and Stott was unusually grave. Finally the latter took her aside and broke it to her gently. In spite of their efforts and the efforts of their friends the congressional inquiry had resulted in a finding against the judge, and a demand had already been made upon the senate for his impeachment. They could do nothing now. It was a fight in the senate with all the influence they could muster. It was going to be hard, but Stott was confident the right would prevail. After dinner as they were sitting in silence on the porch, each measuring the force of the blow which they had expected, yet had always hoped to evade. A loud crashing sound of a bicycle was heard on the quiet country road. The door stopped at their gate and came up the porch, holding out an envelope to the judge, who, guessing the contents, had started forward. He tore it open. It was a cablegram from Paris and its contents were as follows:

CHAPTER VII. THERE was greater activity in the Rosemore cottage at Massapequa than there had been any day since the judge and his wife had come to live there. The break Edgewise had been scouring and polishing in honor of the expected arrival, and a hundred times Mrs. Rosemore had climbed the stairs to see everything was as it should be in the room which had been prepared for

her. "Just told her to come home at once. Tomorrow we ought to get an answer." Stott meantime had been figuring on the time of Shirley's probable arrival. If the cablegram had been received in Paris the previous evening, it would be too late to catch the French boat. The North German Lloyd steamer was the next to leave, and it touched at Cherbourg. She would undoubtedly come on that. In a week at most she would be here. Then it became a question as to who should go to meet her. "The judge could not go," said Stott. "It would be too much of a certain. Mrs. Rosemore did not know the lower part of the city and had no experience in meeting ocean steamships. There was only one way out—would Stott go? Of course he would, and he would bring Shirley with him to Massapequa. So during the next few days while Stott and the judge toiled preparing their case, which often necessitated brief trips to the city, Mrs. Rosemore, who was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival.

"By the way, where's your daughter?"

Edgewise, who came originally from County Cork, was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival. Edgewise, who came originally from County Cork, was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival.

That evening Stott and the judge came home earlier than usual, and from their dejected appearance Mrs. Rosemore divined bad news. The judge was painfully silent through the meal, and Stott was unusually grave. Finally the latter took her aside and broke it to her gently. In spite of their efforts and the efforts of their friends the congressional inquiry had resulted in a finding against the judge, and a demand had already been made upon the senate for his impeachment. They could do nothing now. It was a fight in the senate with all the influence they could muster. It was going to be hard, but Stott was confident the right would prevail. After dinner as they were sitting in silence on the porch, each measuring the force of the blow which they had expected, yet had always hoped to evade. A loud crashing sound of a bicycle was heard on the quiet country road. The door stopped at their gate and came up the porch, holding out an envelope to the judge, who, guessing the contents, had started forward. He tore it open. It was a cablegram from Paris and its contents were as follows:

CHAPTER VII.

THERE was greater activity in the Rosemore cottage at Massapequa than there had been any day since the judge and his wife had come to live there. The break Edgewise had been scouring and polishing in honor of the expected arrival, and a hundred times Mrs. Rosemore had climbed the stairs to see everything was as it should be in the room which had been prepared for

her. "Just told her to come home at once. Tomorrow we ought to get an answer." Stott meantime had been figuring on the time of Shirley's probable arrival. If the cablegram had been received in Paris the previous evening, it would be too late to catch the French boat. The North German Lloyd steamer was the next to leave, and it touched at Cherbourg. She would undoubtedly come on that. In a week at most she would be here. Then it became a question as to who should go to meet her. "The judge could not go," said Stott. "It would be too much of a certain. Mrs. Rosemore did not know the lower part of the city and had no experience in meeting ocean steamships. There was only one way out—would Stott go? Of course he would, and he would bring Shirley with him to Massapequa. So during the next few days while Stott and the judge toiled preparing their case, which often necessitated brief trips to the city, Mrs. Rosemore, who was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival.

Edgewise, who came originally from County Cork, was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival. Edgewise, who came originally from County Cork, was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival.

That evening Stott and the judge came home earlier than usual, and from their dejected appearance Mrs. Rosemore divined bad news. The judge was painfully silent through the meal, and Stott was unusually grave. Finally the latter took her aside and broke it to her gently. In spite of their efforts and the efforts of their friends the congressional inquiry had resulted in a finding against the judge, and a demand had already been made upon the senate for his impeachment. They could do nothing now. It was a fight in the senate with all the influence they could muster. It was going to be hard, but Stott was confident the right would prevail. After dinner as they were sitting in silence on the porch, each measuring the force of the blow which they had expected, yet had always hoped to evade. A loud crashing sound of a bicycle was heard on the quiet country road. The door stopped at their gate and came up the porch, holding out an envelope to the judge, who, guessing the contents, had started forward. He tore it open. It was a cablegram from Paris and its contents were as follows:

CHAPTER VII.

THERE was greater activity in the Rosemore cottage at Massapequa than there had been any day since the judge and his wife had come to live there. The break Edgewise had been scouring and polishing in honor of the expected arrival, and a hundred times Mrs. Rosemore had climbed the stairs to see everything was as it should be in the room which had been prepared for

her. "Just told her to come home at once. Tomorrow we ought to get an answer." Stott meantime had been figuring on the time of Shirley's probable arrival. If the cablegram had been received in Paris the previous evening, it would

CHAPTER VII.

THERE was greater activity in the Rosemore cottage at Massapequa than there had been any day since the judge and his wife had come to live there. The break Edgewise had been scouring and polishing in honor of the expected arrival, and a hundred times Mrs. Rosemore had climbed the stairs to see everything was as it should be in the room which had been prepared for

her. "Just told her to come home at once. Tomorrow we ought to get an answer." Stott meantime had been figuring on the time of Shirley's probable arrival. If the cablegram had been received in Paris the previous evening, it would be too late to catch the French boat. The North German Lloyd steamer was the next to leave, and it touched at Cherbourg. She would undoubtedly come on that. In a week at most she would be here. Then it became a question as to who should go to meet her. "The judge could not go," said Stott. "It would be too much of a certain. Mrs. Rosemore did not know the lower part of the city and had no experience in meeting ocean steamships. There was only one way out—would Stott go? Of course he would, and he would bring Shirley with him to Massapequa. So during the next few days while Stott and the judge toiled preparing their case, which often necessitated brief trips to the city, Mrs. Rosemore, who was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival.

Edgewise, who came originally from County Cork, was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival. Edgewise, who came originally from County Cork, was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival.

That evening Stott and the judge came home earlier than usual, and from their dejected appearance Mrs. Rosemore divined bad news. The judge was painfully silent through the meal, and Stott was unusually grave. Finally the latter took her aside and broke it to her gently. In spite of their efforts and the efforts of their friends the congressional inquiry had resulted in a finding against the judge, and a demand had already been made upon the senate for his impeachment. They could do nothing now. It was a fight in the senate with all the influence they could muster. It was going to be hard, but Stott was confident the right would prevail. After dinner as they were sitting in silence on the porch, each measuring the force of the blow which they had expected, yet had always hoped to evade. A loud crashing sound of a bicycle was heard on the quiet country road. The door stopped at their gate and came up the porch, holding out an envelope to the judge, who, guessing the contents, had started forward. He tore it open. It was a cablegram from Paris and its contents were as follows:

CHAPTER VII.

THERE was greater activity in the Rosemore cottage at Massapequa than there had been any day since the judge and his wife had come to live there. The break Edgewise had been scouring and polishing in honor of the expected arrival, and a hundred times Mrs. Rosemore had climbed the stairs to see everything was as it should be in the room which had been prepared for

her. "Just told her to come home at once. Tomorrow we ought to get an answer." Stott meantime had been figuring on the time of Shirley's probable arrival. If the cablegram had been received in Paris the previous evening, it would

CHAPTER VII.

THERE was greater activity in the Rosemore cottage at Massapequa than there had been any day since the judge and his wife had come to live there. The break Edgewise had been scouring and polishing in honor of the expected arrival, and a hundred times Mrs. Rosemore had climbed the stairs to see everything was as it should be in the room which had been prepared for

her. "Just told her to come home at once. Tomorrow we ought to get an answer." Stott meantime had been figuring on the time of Shirley's probable arrival. If the cablegram had been received in Paris the previous evening, it would be too late to catch the French boat. The North German Lloyd steamer was the next to leave, and it touched at Cherbourg. She would undoubtedly come on that. In a week at most she would be here. Then it became a question as to who should go to meet her. "The judge could not go," said Stott. "It would be too much of a certain. Mrs. Rosemore did not know the lower part of the city and had no experience in meeting ocean steamships. There was only one way out—would Stott go? Of course he would, and he would bring Shirley with him to Massapequa. So during the next few days while Stott and the judge toiled preparing their case, which often necessitated brief trips to the city, Mrs. Rosemore, who was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival.

Edgewise, who came originally from County Cork, was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival. Edgewise, who came originally from County Cork, was Irish with a vengeance, was kept busy getting a room ready for her daughter's arrival.

That evening Stott and the judge came home earlier than usual, and from their dejected appearance Mrs. Rosemore divined bad news. The judge was painfully silent through the meal, and Stott was unusually grave. Finally the latter took her aside and broke it to her gently. In spite of their efforts and the efforts of their friends the congressional inquiry had resulted in a finding against the judge, and a demand had already been made upon the senate for his impeachment. They could do nothing now. It was a fight in the senate with all the influence they could muster. It was going to be hard, but Stott was confident the right would prevail. After dinner as they were sitting in silence on the porch, each measuring the force of the blow which they had expected, yet had always hoped to evade. A loud crashing sound of a bicycle was heard on the quiet country road. The door stopped at their gate and came up the porch, holding out an envelope to the judge, who, guessing the contents, had started forward. He tore it open. It was a cablegram from Paris and its contents were as follows:

CHAPTER VII.

THERE was greater activity in the Rosemore cottage at Massapequa than there had been any day since the judge and his wife had come to live there. The break Edgewise had been scouring and polishing in honor of the expected arrival, and a hundred times Mrs. Rosemore had climbed the stairs to see everything was as it should be in the room which had been prepared for

her. "Just told her to come home at once. Tomorrow we ought to get an answer." Stott meantime had been figuring on the time of Shirley's probable arrival. If the cablegram had been received in Paris the previous evening, it would

CHAPTER VII.

THERE was greater activity in the Rosemore cottage at Massapequa than there had been any day since the judge and his wife had come to live there. The break Edgewise had been scouring and polishing in honor of the expected arrival, and a hundred times Mrs. Rosemore had climbed the stairs to see everything was as it should be in the room which had been prepared for Hardinsburg, Ky., at Close of Business June 29, 1907.

Resources.	Liabilities.
Notes and Bills - $245,264.41	Capital Stock - $ 50,000.00
Cash in Safe . . . 16,479.67	Surplus and Undi-
Cash in Other Banks - 38,137.43	vided Profits - 6,910.10
Stocks and Bonds - 34,994.69	Amount due Depos-
Banking House and Lot 1,800.00	itors . . . 280,302.89
Other Real Estate - 136.79
Furniture and Fixtures 400.00
Total - - $337,212.99	Total . . . $337,212.99

M. H. BEARD, Cashier.

For all kinds of Foundry
Machine, Boiler, Electrical,
Tin, Galvanized and Sheet
Iron Work. ✓ ✓ ✓ ✓

Saw Mill, Stationery, Portable, Traction, Marine, Steam, Gas and Gasolene Engines.

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Estimates cheerfully furnished on application. See or write us before buying elsewhere.

Cloverport, - Kentucky.

Kentucky School of Telegraphy, Owensboro, Ky.

When you feel the need of a pill take 11 DeWitt's Little Early Riser. Small pill, safe pill, sure pill. Easy to take—pleasant and effective. Drives away headaches. Sold by All Druggists.

This lease but two men to be served. William Rockefeller, one of the New Jersey company's vice presidents, and H. R. Payne, vice president of the United Fruit company, are expected to be present. Marshall Heikel has sent his supporters back to Chicago. It is not expected that service on these officials will be obtained for the Saturday hearing.

When Sir Rockefeller appears before Judge Landis he will be asked to state what he knows about the relationship of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey to the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and also give details of the financial resources of the Indiana company.

Eight bandits at Rign have been Bad sick headaches, biliousness or constipation are quickly relieved by DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Small pill, sure pill, safe pill—prompt and pleasant in action. Sold by all druggists.

Kodol For Indigestion.
Relieves sour stomach,
palpitation of the heart. Digests whatever you eat.

Duroc Jersey H and Fine Sheep
Sale. Southdov and Shropshire Ra

Get in your order be they are sold.

E. P. HARDAWA
Irvington, Ky.

State of Kentucky.
County of Jefferson, ss. I, John S. Adair, Cashier of the Two State Bank, a Bank located and doing business at No. — street in the City of New York, Ky., in said county, being duly sworn, depose and say that I do not expect a true statement of the condition of said bank as of the 25th day of June 1907, to the best of my knowledge and belief; and further say that the location named, and not elsewhere; and that I have not received any communication with an official notice received from the Secretary of State dated said day, which such report shall be made.

JOHN S. ADAIR, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me on the 25th day of June, 1907, at New York, N. Y.,
By Andrew Crawford, D. C.
R. D. Hamilton,
G. W. Payne.

82 3-4 acres lying on
Clover Creek, 1 3-4 miles
Southeast of Cloverport.
For particulars address
W. L. NOELL,
Cloverport, Ky.

BE SAFE WITH YOUR MONEY.

Open an account with us and let us care for it. Cash is very slippery sometimes and requires systematic handling.
The safest way is to deposit it in a bank and check it out as required. We have a Check Book ready for you. Call on us today.

BANK OF CLOVERPORT.
CLOVERPORT Ky.

spent Thursday in Owensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lightfoot spent a few days in Louisville last week.

Mrs. Martin Bruns, of Owensboro, is expected to visit friends here.

Geo. L. Waggoner, of Fayetteville, Tenn., is the guest of relatives.

Phelix Elder, of Owensboro, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Chas. Elder.

Miss Elsie Ford Gregory is visiting friends and relatives in Louisville this week.

Malcolm E. Wall, of Obion, Ill., is the guest of his cousin, Miss Minnie Embry.

Miss Garret Phelps, of Chicago, is the guest of her nephew, Mr. David Phelps.

J. B. Rice, Owensboro, was visiting relatives at his old home, Tar Fork, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hamman spent Sunday at Connetton, the guests of Mr. Albert Finn.

[illegible] to the federal court in $500. Williams failed to furnish $500 bond to appear as a witness and was sent to jail.

Consumption is less deadly than it used to be.

Certain relief and usually complete recovery will result from the following treatment:

Hope, rest, fresh air, and—Scott's Emulsion.

ALL DRUGGISTS: 50c. and $1.00.

JUDGMENT SUSTAINED

Hargis and Callahan Held in Damages for Marum's Death.

Frankfort, Ky., June 23.—A damage judgment of the Clark circuit court awarding to Mrs. Abigail Marum, widow of Attorney James B. Marum, who was assassinated at Jackson, Breathitt county, and her children, $1,000 to be received of Judge James Hargis and Edward Callahan on the ground that they had caused Marum to be shot and killed has been upheld by the Kentucky court of appeals. Hargis was the county judge and Callahan the sheriff of Breathitt county when Marum was assassinated while standing in the courthouse door at Jackson several years ago. Curt Jett, clerk of the state penitentiary here, was charged with having committed the crime as a result of feud troubles.

When the baby is teething it is cross and restless, it becomes feverish, and in many cases vomits a great deal, and sometimes cannot even keep cool water on the stomach. All the delicate little organs of the stomach are affected, bringing on colic and diarrhoea. Cascasweet for babies and children makes the stomach right and allays inflammation and prevents irritation. Cascasweet makes the baby happy and well. Sold by all druggists.

Big Cattlemen Indicted.

Heleam, Mont., July 1.—John T. Murphy, cattlemen in Montana and plantation owner in Florida, has been indicted by the United States grand jury for the unlawful fencing of 59,340 acres of public land situated in Yellowstone and Fergus counties. He was arrested and is out on bond.

Big Meeting of Turners.

Louisville, Ky., June 29.—The annual turnfest of the Indiana district of the North American Turnbund is in progress here with over 3,000 visitors and 500 athletes from the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky in attendance.

Drowned in the Ohio River.

Arkington, Ky., June 29.—Ralph, the two-year-old son of James Taylor, was drowned while bathing in the river with a boy companion.

A Sharp Political Contest.

Rome, July 2.—A sharp contest between the Clerico-Conservatives and the Socialists marked the municipal elections, the latter winning.

Bile Poison

has a very bad effect on your system. It disorders your stomach and digestive apparatus, taints your blood and causes constipation, with all its fearful ills.

Thedford's Black-Draught

is a bland tonic, liver regulator, and blood purifier.

It gets rid of the poisons caused by over-supply of bile, and quickly cures bilious headaches, dizziness, loss of appetite, nausea, indigestion, constipation, malaria, chills and fever, jaundice, nervousness, irritability, melancholia, and all sickness due to disordered liver.

It is not a cathartic, but a gentle, health, life-giving medicine, which acts without irritating.

Price 25c at all Druggists.

AFTER EXPRESS COMPANIES

Uncle Sam Says They Must Quit Giv-ing Franks.

Chicago, July 6.—District Attorney Sims, in accordance with directions from Attorney General Bourke, after conferences with him in Washington and in pursuance of authority contained in the Elkins law as amended by the Hepburn act, has filed suit against five of the big express companies in the United States circuit court asking for an injunction to prevent further alleged violations of the new rate laws in so far as they relate to the issuance of express franks. The five companies against which the government seeks injunctions are United States, National, American, Wells Fargo and Adams Express companies.

BUMPED BY A MOTOR CAR

C. B. Reynolds and Wife Figure in Automobile Accident.

Deauville, Ill., July 1.—A northbound electric car crashed into C. B. Reynolds' big automobile in Vermilion street, and Mrs. Reynolds, who was riding with her husband, was cut and bruised by the impact, while the tongue of the auto was mashed and an axle bent. The sudden stop of the motor car prevented further results. While Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holmes were driving in their automobile Walter Dye, seven years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dye, ran out and knocked down his leg being broken between the hip and knee.

Long Live The King

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery," of which Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham writes: "I never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Pinkham's discovery is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats, cures all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it is the proven remedy. Guaranteed by Severs Drug Co. 50c and $1.00. Total lot for.

Railroaded By St. Louis.

Tanglers, July 4.—Cald General Sir Harry Maclean, commander of the Sultan's bodyguard and next to the Sultan, the most influential man in Morocco, has been captured by Raisuli, the bandit chief. Raisuli has announced that he will hold the general prisoner until he can grant the ransom which he, Raisuli, demands for his own pardon and Maclean's release.

Without Food for a Month.

Belleville, Ill., July 1.—After fasting since May 30, during which time he tasted nothing but water, Dr. J. J. Baine broke his fast Sunday by partaking of a small quantity of malted milk. Beginning his fast at 192 pounds, he had lost 28 pounds. His chest measurement has been reduced from 43 to 42 inches and waist from 44 to 34 inches.

WINCHESTER

Shotgun Shells

"Leader" and "Repeater" and Repeating Shotguns

make a killing combination for field, fowl or trap shooting. No smokeless powder shells enjoy such a reputation for uniformity of loading and strong shooting qualities as Winchester's "Leader" and "Repeater" brands and no shotgun made shoots harder or better than the Winchester.

THEY ARE MADE FOR EACH OTHER

Tired and Sick YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the spirits are depressed, the head and back aches, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst form of Female Complaint.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

keeps the feminine organism in a strong and healthy condition. It cures Inflammation, Ulceration, displacements, and organic troubles. In preparing for child-birth and to carry women safely through the change of life it is most efficient.

Mrs. Augustus Lyon of East Earl, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"For a long time I suffered from female troubles and had all kinds of aches and pains in the lower part of back and sides, I could not sleep and had no appetite. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following the advice which you gave me I feel like a new woman and I cannot praise your medicine too highly."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

DEATH OF FRANCIS MURPHY

Great Apostle of Temperance Passes Away in California.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 1.—Francis Murphy, the well-known temperance lecturer, died at 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

Pittsburg, July 1.—Francis Murphy first came into prominence as a temperance advocate in this city in 1876. Under his leadership a blue ribbon propaganda resulted in thousands of men signing the "Murphy pledge" and attracting national attention. Fifteen meetings were held in Library hall, following which a call for funds was made to carry on the campaign in other cities. In a few minutes prominent and wealthy men who had been followers of Mr. Murphy subscribed $15,000. Subsequently meetings were held throughout the United States.

The Bank of Hardinsburg and Trust Company.

CAPITAL $50,000.

B. F. BEARD, President. M. H. BEARD, Cashier.

PAUL CUMPTON, Assistant Cashier.

DIRECTORS:

Morris Eeklinge, G. W. Beard, Lee Green, C. V. Robertson, B. F. Beard, Dr. A. M. Kincheloe, D. S. Richardson.

Does a General Banking Business. Acts as Trustee, Executor, Administrator, Guardian and in every Fiduciary Capacity.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits. Insured against Loss by Fire or Burglary.

"THE LEADING AMERICAN MAGAZINE"

THE CENTURY

IN 1907

Three Great Serial Novels

"THE SHUTTLE"

By Frances Hodgson Burnett

"COME AND FIND ME"

By Elizabeth Robins

"RENNING WATER"

A Novel of Love and Adventure

By the Author of "The Four Feathers"

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

"THE PANAMA CANAL"

By Secretary William H. Taft

THE GERMAN EMPEROR'S VOICE

WENTWORTH'S VOICE

PARADES OF GARDENS, FARMING AND ARCHITECTURE

SARAH J. FLETCHER

PAPER OF ART

THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR

Three Short Serials Supplementing the Century's Famous "War Series"

HOW THE WAR WAS FINANCED

GENERAL HOWARD'S REMINISCENCES

LYNCHON IN THE TELEGRAPH OFFICE

An account of the career of Personal Recollections of Life The story of exciting days, Jay Cooke from unpublished notes, Grant and other leaders, contributed by the interested documents illustrated.

THE FINEST COLOR WORK OF THE MAGAZINE

NEW SUBSCRIBERS, who begin in November, get in what is called the "Shuttle" begins, may obtain, free of charge, if they ask for it, the "Shuttle" and "Come and Find Me" and "Recurring Water" and thus get first chapters of "Recurring Water," the southern get fifteen numbers for the price of twelve. Subscription price $5.00.

The Century Co., Union Square, New York City

A Few of the Lecturers.

GOV. FOLK. DR. GRAY.
GEORGE STUART. SPURGEON OF England
PRES. EVERETT. CAPT. HOBSON.
A. S. OF E. OPIE READ.
BISHOP GALLOWAY, FATHER VAUGHN.

SEVEN HILLS CHAUTAUQUA, AUGUST 1-14, OWENSBORO, KENTUCKY.

The world's greatest Lecturers and Entertainers. Ten Great Schools. Season ticket $2.50. Daily Admission 25c. Just the place for your summer vacation, or church picnic. Thirty-four acres in Park. Boating, Bathing, Fishing.

Write W. F. Maylott, Superintendent, Owensboro, Ky., for 34 Page Program.

Three Bands.

ROUNDS IMPERIAL...Ladies.
JEFFRIES.
THIRD REGIMENT.
Two Male Quartets. Readers, Etc.
Wonderful Trained Animals.

FOURTH ANNUAL Masonic Celebration And Picnic AT HARDINSBURG SAT. AUG. 3.

Both Candidates for Governor,
S. W. HAGER and A. E. WILLSON, Will be present and make addresses.

Greater! Grander! Better! Bigger!
8,000 people present last year. This year 12,000 will attend.
Special Round Trip Rates on the Railroad.
For Particulars See Large Posters.

CHENAULT.

CHENAULT, KY.

Forrest Frymire, of Louisville, was here last week for a short visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Frymire.

Miss Lydia Frank, of Lexington, is visiting Mrs. A. S. Allen. Guy E. Burch and son, Kenneth, of Louisville, were down on a short stay last week. Kenneith will spend the summer with his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Frymire.

Miss Ada Cunningham, of New York, is visiting friends and relatives here.

Mrs. G. B. Cunningham has with her the Gardner twins, Nannie Lee and G. B. Gardner, of Irvington.

Mrs. J. B. Warren spent one afternoon last week with Mrs. Dr. D. S. Sphire, of Mooreville, who has been very sick. We are glad to say Mrs. Sphire is convalescing.

Mrs. Walter Mapes left last week to join her husband at Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Emma Pike and daughter, Duck, of Mooreville, left here Saturday to visit her sister at Scuffletown.

Several of the young people from here went on a fishing party last Thursday and reported a gay time.

All the good qualities of Ely's Cream Balm, solid, are found in Liquid Cream Balm, which is intended for use in atomizers. This is an unfailing cure for Nasal Catarrh is proved by an ever-increasing mass of testimony. It does not dry nor rasp the tender air passages. It allays the inflammation and goes straight to the root of the disease. Obsolete old cases have been cured in a few weeks. All druggists 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 54 Warren Street, New York.

Black Jack Notes.

BLACK JACK, KY.

Mrs. Rosa B. Sipoe, who has been confined to her room for the past three months, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Helia Prather has returned from Louisville after a two weeks' visit with her son, J. H. Prather.

Clayton Bradley and mother spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Smith, near Guston.

Misses Amanda Sipoe and Fanny Mae Prather, of Louisville, are here for a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives.

Miss Allie Poor and Mrs. Riley, of Louisville, are spending this week with their cousins, Mrs. Lora Downs.

The road grader has completed its work on the Big Spring and Brandenburg road and we now have a fine road.

Mrs. Wm. Ritchie died at her home, near Garrett, Wednesday morning, July 3. Her remains were interred in the Buck Grove cemetery on the 4th., at 11 o'clock.

Rev. Dan Shacklett preaching the funeral. Mrs. Ritchie leaves a husband and two children, Wm. Ritchie, Jr., and Miss Lizzie. We extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

GLENDEANE.

GLENDEANE, KY.

Dr. John Kinchelo was down to see C. W. Dean this week, who is on the sick list.

G. W. Matthews is very poorly this week.

Bro. Rogers and wife are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. T. F. Owen this week.

Miss Lennie Carter is visiting Miss Bettie Webb this week.

E. H. Dean went to Louisville this week on business. Harry Moorman, of St. Louis is visiting his father, R. H. Moorman, and daughters.

Nolie Ashley and Miss Jennie Kiper spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dowell, of Irvington.

Mrs. Victor Matthews, of Owensboro, is visiting G. W. Matthews this week.

Quite a crowd went from here to Hardinsburg on the Fourth.

J. W. Mattingly, of Louisville, is here on business this week.

Claude Decker, of Louisville, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Willie Futress.

Wibber Epperson, of Guston, is here visiting friends this week. W. R. Moorman, Jr., shipped a fine calf to Marion, Tenn., this week to Mr. Harper.

Miss Mary Brown, of Irvington, is visiting Mrs. John Moorman this week.

Mrs. D. C. Moorman and daughter, Betsy, are visiting in Bewleyville this week.

Miss Maude Smith is visiting Miss Ada Mattingly.

Mrs. Nannie Rogers, of Fordsville, was up and spent the day with Mrs. A. E. Smith.

Miss Kate Noble, of McDaniels, is visiting Mrs. Laura Pool.

Miss Ditto Entertained in DeCatur

(DeCatur Herald.)

Mrs. John T. Ditto and Mrs. James Baldwin will issue 300 invitations the first of the week for an informal reception to be given Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Addie G. Ditto of Louisville, Ky., who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ditto.

Miss Addie Graham Ditto, of Louisville, was the guest of honor at a dinner given at the Country Club on the evening of the Fourth by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Starr.

PATESVILLE.

PATESVILLE, KY.

Mrs. T. G. Lynch is slowly improving.

Mrs. Walter Jaboe is improving some.

Little Harold Improving is ill at this writing.

Little Reba Compton was ill for several days.

Amos Corley and wife, of Dukes, attended church at Bethlehem Saturday.

James Nix went to Horse Branch Thursday to spend a few days on business.

Deafield base ball boys played the boys of this place a warm game on their ground Saturday afternoon. The game stood 15 to 13 in favor of Deafield.

George W. Jarloe, who spends most of his time in El Paso, Texas, returned home again for a few weeks visit with friends and relatives.

J. T. Parson lost a fine horse Sunday afternoon. The cause of its death is unknown as it was found dead in the stable. Mr.

Wants.

FOR SALE—Eastman Kodak Camera, $10 to 125—News Office, Cloverport Ky.

FOR RENT—For further information apply to Mrs. Hannah Hardin, Hot, Ky.

FOR SALE—Scholarship in Bowling Green Business University, good for any department in that institution. Brockridge News.

FOR SALE—heap, if taken at once. Mahogany Chairs, nicely polished. C. G. Stewart.

FOR SALE—100 acres of land lying on the Branch railroad near Kirk. 100 acres cleared all in wood. Good barn, 8 acres in meadow. Rapid land for tobacco, corn or wheat. Price $2,000 cash. For further particulars write the Brockridge News, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—Presses and cutting machines and one lot of good laundry machines. Also new and second-hand gas and gasoline Engines—MARTIN GABLE, 310 2nd Street, Louisville, Ky.

LAND FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—100 acres of land situated near Lexington, one mile and a half from Lexington. One small log dwelling, three rooms. Good stock and stock barn, one acre in meadow. White oak and post oak land. Fine lot of good timber and soil to sell. Price $200. For further information write Jno. D. Ballou, Cloverport, Ky.

FOR SALE—Book of Destiny—fortune book. 10c. at News office.

Parson says he went to the stable about nine that a. m. and the horse was eating as hearty as a horse could eat.

Mrs. Wm. Corley has been quiet ill for several weeks' and is improving at this writing.

Matt Jarloe, of this place, purchased a fine horse from Ernest Mattingly, of Pelville.

Rev. Geo. Corley filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Saturday afternoon and Sunday a. m.

The young people of this place gave an ice cream social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Harmon Thursday evening, July 4th.

Misses Emma Clark and Nellie Favver, Messrs. Kirtley Kincaid and Homer Tindle spent Sunday of last week at the Tar Springs.

Mrs. Etta Marlowe and sister, Miss Anna Lamb, spent Thursday with Edward Gabbert and wife, of near Victoria.

New Postmaster For Buras.

Francis R. Dowell has been appointed postmaster at Buras, this county.

Cloverport, Friday, July 12.
At the Brick Yard Grounds.

The "Boston Bloomers" Ladies' Champion Base Ball Club will play the local team of this city, on Friday, July 12. This will be a most interesting and exciting contest, and it is predicted that the Boston Bloomers will have the largest attendance ever seen at a ball game in this city. The Boston Bloomers comprise a team of lady athletes who know how to play base ball, and are perfect ladies in every respect. This will be the event of the season, and our local base ball management should be congratulated on securing such a truly novel attraction.

$1.25

ROUND TRIP FROM

Brandenburg, Irvington, Guston, Ekron and all Branch Line Points to LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY!

WEEK END EXCURSION VIA THE
"HENDERSON ROUTE,"
On Saturday, July 20.

Special Train Leaves

Fordville	4:30 a. m.
Hardinsburg	5:15 "
Irvington	5:30 "
Guston	5:45 "
Ekron	6:00 "
Brandenburg	6:15 "

Making stops at intermediate points. Returning, leaves Louisville at 6:00 p. m.

FOR FULL INFORMATION ASK THE AGENT.